

Timothy A. Fisher, Managing Partner

Tim is the leader in charge of guiding the future direction of OSHA Services, LLC. His unwavering, singular focus is to simplify OSHA and provide organisations with a proven, cost-effective, systematic method for implementing and complying with the requirements of OSHA. Tim has been the rallying force behind OSHA Services' unmatched success. A North Carolina native and graduate of Arizona State University, Tim's career spans nearly 30 years including 18 years with Costco/Price Club. His efforts resulted in the #2 rating company-wide (267) for the lowest accident frequency rate for worker's compensation claims for that organisation. During the last 12 years he has been sharing his secrets for success with others. His continual quest for best business practices and his willingness to embrace change makes Tim a true empowerer of people who has faith in his team and who challenges them to perform and deliver results to OSHA Services partners and customers. To Tim, a true measure of his success is the success of the organisations that we train.
